Dear [REDACTED]

STAT

Thanks very much for your thoughtful note about language. I have written Aaron as per the attached. I also have Bob Gates and some of his people working on the subject. You are right about the World War II effort being call the Institute of Propaganda Studies or something of that sort. Somehow the names I have established in my mind with it are [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

The latter doesn't seem right but it may be. Two other people who have done some thinking about this are Pat Moynihan and Jeane Kirkpatrick. Keep thinking -- I'll see you soon.

My attention on the leak subject was interrupted by my trip [REDACTED] and also the related subject of oversight as a security threat. I am back at it now and I will be interested in what your group may have in mind in projecting the important ideas which came out of the meeting we had with [REDACTED]
